

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

A Long Session Devoted to the Consideration of Drainage and Sewage—Grist of Preliminary Work For Civil Engineer.

The Council at their meeting Monday evening labored intensively and long on the drainage and sewage problems of Wauseon.

The matter of the Ottokree and Jefferson Streets improvement was under discussion laid on the table indefinitely.

Retention for establishment of sidewalk grade on Oakwood Street was referred to a sidewalk committee who reported recommending that an engineer be employed to establish sidewalk grade and set stakes on that street. The Council thereupon voted that Jocelyn Upp be employed to establish a sidewalk grade and set stakes on Oakwood Street.

A motion was also carried to employ Mr. Upp as engineer on the Vine and West Superior Streets improvement.

Following a recommendation from the street committee, it was voted to furnish and lay four inch drains on both sides of Hazard Avenue and that Jocelyn Upp be instructed to furnish grade for laying such tiles.

Messrs. Earl Willson and S. Salinger were present to ask the Council to make an effort to relieve the drainage condition on East Leggett street where during heavy rain sewage flows the backs of property owners on that street. Ways and means were discussed at considerable length and finally the Council disposed of the matter by voting to employ Jocelyn Upp as engineer to prepare plans and specifications for an out let sewer for that sewer section of the town which includes East Leggett Street.

The next sewer problem was located in the Northeast section of town affecting Third and Wood streets, possible methods of solving this problem were suggested and considered; the Council finally voting to employ Mr. Upp to prepare plans and specifications for the extension of a 12 inch sewer on Third Street and a connection with sewer on Wood Street.

Surface drainage on Marshall and Beech Streets and the East School grounds were next considered and Mr. Upp as engineer to prepare plans and specifications for the drainage of surface water from this area.

Mr. Upp was loaded with engineering work enough to keep him busy for the next thirty days.

The Street Commissioner (was) has been to make cross walks that have been taken up on East Chestnut Street to Monroe and Oak Streets and place them as the intersection of those streets.

The clerk was instructed to write the superintendent of the Toledo Division of the New York Central Railway asking that planking be placed on East on Street crossing the

HINE--GALBRAITH

The marriage of Miss Florence Hine and Mr. Frank Galbraith was solemnized last Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hine near Toledo, in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties: Rev. R. O. Rofor, of the Christian Church of Wauseon, pronouncing the beautiful ceremony. Miss Ruth Turner and Mr. Howard Hine attended the bride and groom. Miss Hazel Miller of Toledo, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride was very becomingly gowned in white satin.

Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith will reside in Wauseon, where Mr. Galbraith is in the employ of the N. Y. C. Ry.

The bride and groom have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and prosperous future.

BROODING AND REARING CHICKS

A good brooder house and good equipment are essential for brooding chicks.

Do not let the chicks get chilled or get to warm.

Do not feed till at least 48 hours old: 70 hours is better.

Get the chicks on fresh clean range as soon as possible.

Milk is the most important chick feed, and may be fed as the only drink to force consumption.

Feed a dry mash from the first week to maturity.

Green food should be supplied at all times.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were adopted by the Women's Relief Corps in the death of Mary Files.

Be it resolved that in the death of our sister member, we lose a faithful member, a kind friend and neighbor.

Be it further resolved, we emulate her virtues, and cherish her memory, she was a useful citizen, a trust worthy friend, faithful to her church and order, as long as her health permitted.

Therefore be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, a copy be preserved in our corps and our charter to be draped for a period of thirty days.

WARNINGS TO FARMERS

From Farm Bureau Federation

Warning has been sent to every County Farm Bureau in the State to look out for Dr. D. W. Nolan and his so called hog remedy "NOXINE". A very systematic investigation has been made of this man and his "Remedy". Noxine has been analyzed by a chemist of the Ohio Dairy and Food Department, and it is alleged to be of very little medicinal value. We have on file a score or more of letters from farmers who have lost their hogs by the use of this treatment. We have been informed that Noxine in the doses prescribed, would act only as a feeble disinfectant of the digestive tract, and that the small amount of alcohol which such a dose of Noxine contains will have little or no therapeutic value. To use it indiscriminately therefore, as a treatment for all swine diseases is not only a waste of time and money, but its use may postpone or prevent proper treatment. It costs $4.00 per bottle, and it must bring to the manufacturer a very handsome profit. In brief, Noxine has no curative value, and if good results have been obtained from its use, they must have come from following out the sanitary and hygienic recommendations which the manufacturer insists must accompany its use. A complete investigation will be made in the very near future.

L. has been learned that there are several agents operating in Ohio who are selling a material to be used to inoculate fruit trees for scale, worms and most all other troubles to which fruit trees are heir. This sort of a scheme has been tried off and on for several hundred years. There is not an Experiment Station, College of Agriculture or experienced fruit grower who is willing to place a particle of value in this method of pest control. It has been tried out by Experiment Stations innumerable times with absolutely no beneficial results. We wish to warn Farm Bureau members of Ohio to be on the lookout for such agents.

There are many men who wish to separate the farmer from his money, leaving nothing of value in return. What out for them. We believe everyone has a right to spend their money in any way they choose—but we also believe they are entitled to know what they are buying.

"BEFORE YOU INVEST—INVESTIGATE."

$100.00 FOR HOLSTEIN CALF CLUB

The Holstein Fresian Calf Club offers a wonderful opportunity for a boy or girl to make an investment which will give good returns to obtain some very valuable information and experience in the care feeding and management of dairy cattle and to get a good start with purebred stock at a reasonable price.

A canvass has been made of the schools but there are many boys and girls under nine years of age who are not in school but should be interested in the Calf Club.

Every breeder of purebred Holsteins in the County should make it his business to interest two or three boys or girls in joining the Calf Club.

The Fulton County Holstein Fresian Association was largely responsible for the organization of the Club, and it must have the help and co-operation of the breeders in order to be a success.

Calves must be obtained by May first. No calf to be over six months old on that date. Calves may be obtained from untested herds but such calves must be tested for tuberculosis as soon as they are six months old. Every boy who brings a calf that will have to be tested should have an understanding to the effect that he will not have to pay for the calf if it reacts to the tuberculosis test.

Mr. C. P. Grisier, Secretary of the Fulton County Holstein Association has promised to raise $100.00, to be divided into four premiums as follows: $50.00, $25.00, $15.00, $10.00. These premiums will be given in addition to those given by the Fair Board.

Any boy or girl that is interested call join the club by calling up the County Agent's office.

READ IT IN THE TRIBUNE

Every week we receive from The Agricultural College Extension Service of Ohio State University a News Letter containing valuable suggestions, directions, recipes and items of news of agricultural activities over the State. We believe these items are authentic and as the large majority of our readers are farmers we publish such items as are applicable in this section or are of interest to Fulton County farmers.

We are confident that this service is of real value to many of our subscribers and suggest that you give the Tribune careful reading, clipping out items of practical information for future reference. You will realize many times the subscription price in value.

RED CROSS CLOTHING

The Lake Division of The American Red Cross Society are at work on a quota of clothing to be shipped overseas for the hundreds of thousands of babies and small children in Europe who are clad only in meager rags or newspapers. The quota includes 35,000 layettes and 300,000 garments for boys and girls up to 14 years.

With materials furnished by the Red Cross native women in the war-blighted countries of Europe today are at work in an effort to meet the distress among their children, but their service is in no wise sufficient to cope with the problem.

Polish children are living in abandoned ranches and dugouts, in which many of them are born. The children and their parents manage to exist on what they can grow in the fields. Their bread is a combination of dirty rye, acorns and potato peelings. It is baked into a substance more like dry clay, which produces scurvy and other ailments.

AN ENTERTAINMENT EXTRAORDINARY

The Messes Phyllis, Eunice and Dorothy Davis, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. A few years have passed; the Davis Sisters are still sweet and unaffected "girls," but they have developed more of charm and proficiency in their musical work.

On Friday evening April 23rd at 7:45 at the High School Auditorium the Davis Sisters will appear in a concert of instrumental music and readings under the auspices of Mrs. J. F. O'Connell's circle of the Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church and for the benefit of that organization.

FOR STARVING CHINA

The Tribune publishers have received an appeal from Thomas W. Lamont of New York, chairman of the American Committee for China Famine Fund in which he states that the critical period of famine is between now and the June Harvest. Relief from America and the Chinese themselves has saved many but there are still 5,000,000 famine victims destitute.

The appeal of Mr. Lamont to us is that we open the columns of this paper to receive subscriptions which are to be sent by us to the treasurer of the fund, Mr. Vernon Monroe, Bible House, New York City. DROWNS HERSELF

Mrs. Wm. Geer while suffering from dementia drowned herself in a small creek which runs through her husband's farm a mile and half south of Swanton, early last Monday morning.

Mrs. Geer appeared as well as usual Sunday, she and her husband entertaining guests during the day. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Geer sat reading until about 9:30 when Mr. Geer suggested that it was bed time. Mrs. Geer stated that she was reading a story which she wished to finish before retiring. Mr. Geer went to bed and did not awaken until 4 o'clock Monday morning, he found that his wife was not in her bed and on search found that she was not in the house; he gave the alarm and with neighbors search was made.

Tracks were discovered in a lane that runs due West to the small stream that runs through the farm, the tracks led to a bridge which crosses the stream where they stopped. Search was then made down the stream where the body of Mrs. Geer was found fully dressed lodged in some brush. Coronor N. C. Wright was called and pronounced death due to drowning, from all indications Mr. Wright concluded that the body had been in the water about two hours.

THE ROLL OF DISHONOR

Members of the American Legion and others who served over seas in the World War are awaiting with interest the publication of the list of "slackers"—those who evaded the draft. It is recognized that quite likely after the strenuous efforts the War Department has made to eliminate the names of men who were not in reality slackers, there may still be in the lists some who went into the service from other communities than those in which they lived, and should not be recorded as draft evaders. The Department has made every effort, however, to ascertain all instances of this kind, and the only apparent method left of clearing up the records, freeing the innocent from stain and loading the guilty to justice is to publish the names and thus bring out further facts. When the names are posted and published locally, it is believed to be able to give information that will clear the innocent, and the members of the American Legion are determined to make a systematic effort to run down those who failed to respond to their country's call in time of need.

SOCIETY AND UNDERWOOD INTRIGUE IN THRILLER

Powerful, thrilling and in the same breath tender, exquisite, can truthfully be said of "The Money Changers," which began its two days engagement at the Princess Theatre yesterday. It is Benjamin B. Hampton's newest, and we think his greatest production. He and Upton Sinclair wrote the story around a theme contained in Mr. Sinclair's novel of the same name. The picture commands interest at the very start, quickly plunging into the story, which introduces characters in New York's high society and then shifts to Chinatown. There we see the link between the upper and under worlds. A financier of high social standing worships the god of money. He cares not that the gold that overflows his coffers is at the dreadful cost of souls of people to whom he illicitly sells drugs in the mysterious, secret mazes of Chinatown.

To expose the drug gang is the ambition of an alert young newspaper reporter, whose articles have caused a falling off in sales and thrown fear into the ring's leaders. The action leads fast and furiously up to a climax that for thrills and suspense sets your blood pounding and your nerves throbbing. It stirs your emotions to fever heat.

"The Money Changers" also is not lacking in romance, there being three and, uniquely, the one of the ring leader's playthings is the more exquisite and tender of the three. The cast leaves nothing to be desired, splendid performances being rendered by Robert McKim, Roy Stewart, Claire Adams, Audrey Chapman, George Webb, Edward Peil and many others. The direction reflects great credit on Jack Conway, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 26-27th at the Princess.

STORIES OF AMERICA AND AMERICANS

A Temperance Lecture on Toledo's Site in 1805 That Produced Good Results.

The first temperance lecture I have any special record of in Northern Ohio, was delivered at Port Industry, junction of the Maumee river and Swaner Creek (Toledo) June 26, 1805.

Rev. Joseph Badger, a protestant missionary, who is mentioned more fully in another sketch of this series, was the speaker.

Badger had agreed to spend a time with the Wyandots at the river Raisin, (Monroe.) He set out from Cleveland on June 10, with two interpreters, on horse back. The first night they camped near the mouth of Black river on a sand beach. They crossed the river in a canoe and swam their horses and passed the Vermillion in the same manner.

On crossing the Sandusky, they found the chiefs had arrived from the "upper town" on their way to attend the Swan Creek Treaty about setting their lands. Badger spoke to the chiefs, Tarhe and Walk-in-the-water, about holding services for the Fort Indians. They rode about thirty-six miles through the swamp and camped in the woods. The next day, June 26, Badger and interpreters forded the Maumee river, took breakfast at the French house and rode down to the outlet of Swan Creek, where the Indian agent, Mr. Jout, with the commissioners of the Connecticut Fire Land Company, and the chiefs of eight different Indian tribes, were in council.

"Here," says the account, Mr. Badger gave the Wyandots a long temperance talk, after which Tarhe, or Crane, then made every man, short speech and told the Indians to make up their minds what they would do. In half an hour the chief replied: "Father you have told us the truth, we thank you. Father we have all agreed to use no more fire water."

Badger lived among the Indians four years after this and his report says he saw or knew of but one man drunk in that time. The whiskey traffic in that section was put off of business and left.

Rhubarb leaves should not be used for greens. They contain certain substances which make them poisonous to many persons.

Adults can live without milk. Give them the diet of every adult contains at least a pint of milk per day.

A widespread effort will be made this year, particularly in northern Ohio, to determine whether Ohio growers can improve their yields by producing northern grown certified seed potatoes rather than potatoes from homegrown seed.

Ticks on sheep can easily be destroyed by dipping all animals in the stock few weeks after the week has been clipped. Dipping at this time allows the solution to reach the skin, yet there is enough wool to hold the dip on the ticks.

If the weather turns cold after shearing, care should be taken to keep the animals from taking cold. Particular care should be given to ewes that are suckling lambs. If the ewes take cold at this time, there is danger of the milk flow being stopped.

Soybeans can be satisfactorily raised without inoculating the seed, but no nitrogen-fixing nodules are produced on the roots unless the seed is inoculated, inoculated beans have been previously grown on the land, or soil on which soybeans have been grown is applied to the new field.

In furtherance of the campaign for better seed, a meeting of potato growers in 11 northern Ohio counties was held in Cleveland recently and with vigor are improved, the Northern Ohio Potato Growers Association was formed. The purpose of the new association will be the promotion of grades and standards as an aid to marketing.

FROSTED TREES MAY BE WORTH SPRAYING

While recent frosts have done widespread injury to fruit trees specialists recommend that orchardists carefully examine their trees to see if enough live fruit may remain to warrant spraying. If in doubt, it is recommended that the trees be sprayed anyway. Experience in Ohio has shown that many orchardists have omitted spraying following a severe frost have later harvested a fair crop of wormy fruit.

It is true that the application of the petal-fall spray just as soon as the bloom has fallen. During the week following bloom-fall this spray should be applied when the foliage is dry. It is the most important spray of the season, and prevents the codling moth worms from entering the blossom end of the apple during the entire summer.
